

Make Decisions Real: Supported Decision Making Workshops

As part of the Make Decisions Real project Inclusion Australia is running some workshops about supported decision making.

Supported decision making is about being able to make your own decisions with the right support.

Make Decisions Real aims to help people with intellectual disability and their supporters:

- learn about decision making and decision supporting
- become more confident at making and supporting decisions
- and help people with intellectual disability become more independent and have more say in decisions about their own lives.

These workshops are open to people with intellectual disability and their decision supporters.

A decision supporter is someone who supports you to make your own decisions.

This could be a family member, friend, carer or other support person.

You can bring up to 2 of your decision supporters to the workshop.

The workshops are co-designed and presented by people with intellectual disability.

There are 5 workshops between November 2021 and February 2022.

You can choose which one is best for you.

There will be 2 online workshops held on Zoom.

These are open to anyone in Australia.

There will also be 3 face-to-face workshops in Perth, Western Australia.

Face-to-face means we will meet in person and work together in groups.

Each workshop happens over 2 days, on a Tuesday and a Wednesday.

You need to be able to attend both days of the workshop.

Click one of the links below to register as soon as you can so you don't miss out on a spot.
